Each year I re-join PROBUS I find myself in a different role. Now I have been appointed to head up the management crew and find myself wondering if I can possibly do as good a job as those before me. Ken and Ian have been great mentors and I also have to thank Doreen Cable, she certainly spent a lot of time as President (2013/2014) tidying up important paperwork making life a lot easier for those to follow and has always been there to give advice.

I certainly wouldn't be taking on this responsibility without a strong Management Committee (MC) with me. Each one is bringing their own expertise to the table which I shall continually lean on for help and advice. I thank them all for coming forward and volunteering their time for the benefit of us all. Please remember, we, the MC, are very approachable so any new ideas to help improve our Club, or problems you feel we should know about, please make contact with one of us, it will be discussed at the following MC Meeting and feedback will be provided.

I have also telephoned the various interest group leaders and with the exception of Dave Farmes who has retired from running the golf, I have confirmation that they are happy to continue volunteering their time to organize the various activities. Don't panic golfers, Joyce Hubel will be making sure we all continue to get out there for our summer keep fit golf and I suspect Dave will still be there to offer a helping hand. Thank you so much all of you, this club would not be so much fun without you.

I am looking forward to another successful PROBUS year and sincerely pledge to try my best to serve you well.

Sheila Waters

The Murder in the Mirror (also known as The Mark of Cain) by Peter Colley is the story of identical twins, who were raised in northern Ontario. Michael committed murder in the family cottage and was sent to a mental institution. His brother Sean, with his new wife, Dale, have returned to sell the property, against Michael's wishes. They hear that Michael has escaped and is heading for the cottage.

Can the police stop Michael, or has he already arrived and taken his brother's place? Or is Sean susceptible to the same madness that afflicted his twin?

The Murder in the Mirror is a suspenseful thriller, laced with humour, about the dark side of being an identical twin. It is written from the heart, because the author is a twin himself.
